Your School Election Guide

School elections ordinarily attract a small turnout. Tuesday's election may be an exception because charges by William Funke, one of the Grossmont Union High School District trustees, suggests that district representatives have been playing light and fancy with the emotions of district taxpayers by misguiding them.

That's a cinch to wake up some voters! It started when Robert Andreen, an incumbent high school district board member seeking re-election accused trustee Funke of 'nit picking' after he checked up on money the district was spending for "travel expenses."

Funke, speaking for himself as well as Joe Drew, another Grossmont trustee, addressed a prepared statement to Andreen at a board meeting February 18.

In it Funke charged that manipulation had created a financial crisis last year for the purpose of assuring the passage of the Revenue Base Increase (over-ride) election by which taxpayers saddled themselves with an additional $2.4 million dollars of indebtedness out of fear.

It was done, he said, by telling voters, and the board, that the district had only $31 million available for a budget of $33.8 million.

A district report, Funke said, showed that there was actually nearly $37 million available!

The manipulation occurred when the district just before the election last year terminated all extra curricular activity to show the district's sorry financial plight and by serving termination notices on more than 100 teachers to accent that determination.

That's the gist of it. Funke apparently read it at a board meeting rather than giving the statement to the press so that the board and administration would have the benefit of his knowledge and his thoughts on the matter.

Here is the statement as Funke read it:

"Mr. Andreen, you are quoted in a recent newspaper article criticizing Joe Drew and me for wasting the Board's time 'nit picking' our way through lists of travel expense requests. The time that Mr. Drew and I spent checking travel expenses, and I note that this meeting's request will cost the District over $5,000, serves as an on-going reminder of the arrogant disregard of taxpayers money by the majority of this Board and District Administration, particularly during the country's present economic situation.

"As you well know, Mr. Drew and I are concerned. We are also frustrated in our continued attempts to monitor District spending and to obtain factual information.

"You will recall that Member Drew and I asked the Superintendent on December 13, 1974 to recognize the current economic climate and to identify as soon as possible ways to reduce current expenses in preparation of possible loss of anticipated future District revenue. It is apparent that our concerns are not shared by the Superintendent as we are still awaiting one single economy suggestion. On the contrary, we are faced with new spending proposals.

"The most blatant disregard of this Board's fiscal responsibilities to the taxpayers was evidenced by the public criticism of Mr. Drew and me when we stood against the June 1974 Revenue Base Increase proposition. I would not call this 'nit picking' and a waste of time, particularly since the District has now published the actual monies available this year to the District. I would recap the statistics to justify the on-going fiscal concern held by Mr. Drew and me.

"A District report dated April 25, 1974 stated our requirements for this year (1974-75) with the 2.4 million dollar tax over-ride, would be $33,866,337 including approximately one million dollars to complete the Valhalla construction contract.

"The District and the majority of this Board took every measure to create an atmosphere of financial crises for the District, supposedly caused by Senator John Stull, unless the 2.4 million dollar tax revenue was passed.

"To the further concern of Mr. Drew and me, the majority of this Board took the unprecedented actions of actually terminating all District extra curricular activities and actually served notice of employment termination to over 100 teachers.

"These unbelievable actions on behalf of the Board Members here present, in light of the facts finally made available to the public, give cause for grave concern as to whether this Board is fulfilling its duties to the electorate. Figures now released by the District show that, including the tax over-ride monies, we have almost 37 million dollars available this year and that we are in fact budgeted to spend almost 35.6 million of these dollars. I do not believe that questioning District figures, or some of the Board decisions, is 'nit picking'."

But back to election day. There are elections in four districts Tuesday.

In the Grossmont Community College District there are eight candidates for two posts. These are held by Dale Burke and Portia Goode. They should be re-elected.

In the Grossmont Union High School District there are 12 candidates for two posts. Ed Wright, an insurance executive with savvy and common sense is this publication's choice. But the teachers' groups are solidly behind the incumbents Robert Andreen and Kenneth Whitcomb. Therefore, voters are urged to cast for only one person — Ed Wright — to avert diluting their vote on the incumbency.

In the La Mesa-Spring Valley Elementary School District there are four candidates. The incumbents are Melvin C. Nunn and William C. Thompson. They should be re-elected.

In Lemon Grove there are three candidates for two seats on the Lemon Grove Elementary School District board. Attorney James V. Dorman and engineer Henry Reinecke, Jr. should be re-elected.

A reminder. Some candidates are so ignorant of business and school operations that their election would cost the citizen and his youngsters years of unnecessary expense for a reduced quality level of education.

These people can do their damage if they are elected by default. That is why it is so vital for those who have kept informed on school operation and candidates' background to not only get to the polls Tuesday but to also inform friends and neighbors of the hazard involved in not voting.

The Great Celebration

As we look toward the final Independence Day before the Great Centennial, we see the patriotic hand of some of our La Mesa citizens extended toward residents of Lemon Grove in the form of their annual July 4th.

For several years, with only a couple of exceptions, a group of La Mesans have staged a fireworks extravaganza atop

Polls For Schools Open 7 a.m. Tuesday

Polls will be open Tuesday from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. in area precincts to choose board members for the various school districts in which Lemon Grove and Spring Valley lie.

In Lemon Grove, the district will name two members to the school board. James V. Dorman, an attorney and Henry Reinecke, Jr. are seeking re-election. They are challenged by Fred Anderson who represents the Lemon Grove Advisory Committee and the L. G. Crisis Cottage.

Dorman, an attorney, is secretary of the school board; past president of the L.G. Fire Planning Assn.; past president of the L.G. Old Time Days Assn.; director of the L.G. Chamber of Commerce; past president of the L.G. Lions Club; director of the L.G. Fire Protective District and member of St. Phillips Episcopal church.

Reinecke is a 10 year resident of the community; a 24 year veteran in the field of electronics, vice president of Wavetek and a member of the Skyline Wesleyan church. He and Dorman are seeking their second terms.

Anderson is a retired truck driver who now lives in Lemon Grove. In 1971 when he lived in Lomita Village he was arrested and jailed after a hassle with the City of San Diego regarding violation of a zoning law infraction pertaining to a carport he built beyond the zoning limits of his property as provided by law. The same year he ran for S.D. City council running fifth among eight in the primary.

He claims a parental interest in Lemon Grove schools. There is no record of Anderson ever having attended a school board meeting.

Unlicensed Lady

Sandra Kay Neman, 26, of the Foxy Lady, a topless bar at 7828 Broadway, Lemon Grove, was doing her topless dance, on the Foxy Lady stage with 15-20 enthusiastic customers applauding her artistry according to Sheriff's deputies who were checking entertainment permits.

Sandra didn't have her permit. Her dance was stopped abruptly as police cited her as an unregistered female entertainer. They also cited the cafe's manager, George Thomas Fry of La Mesa for permitting an unlicensed female entertainer to entertain.

Girl Scout Cookies Go on Sale Friday

It's Girl Scout cookie time. Girl Scouts in Lemon Grove and Spring Valley, as well as all of the San Diego-Imperial Council, will participate in the annual cookie sale which begins Friday and runs through Sunday, March 9.

Five varieties of cookies and one cracker will be sold this year. They are the famous Chocolate Mint, the Scot-Tea, the Savannah, the Lemon Creme, the Oxford creme, and a sesame crisp cracker. Cookies sell for $1.25 a box.

The 1975 goal is 400,000 boxes. Funds earned will be used for troop program activities and, on the council level, for the girls' year-round program which includes development and maintenance of three camps, and special opportunities for the girls such as camps and national events.

Cookies will be delivered the Savannah, the Lemon Creme, the Oxford creme, and a sesame crisp cracker. Cookies sell for $1.25 a box.

This exemption of $1,750 assessed value is applicable only to a qualified owner or buyer-occupied dwelling constituting the claimant's principal place of residence on March 1st of the year the exemption is claimed.

Others Qualify As well, the owner of a multiple-family dwelling, such as a triplex, four-unit flat, or an apartment house containing three or more units, can claim a Homeowners' Exemption on

Accident Fatal to Two Area Women

Two women, one from Lemon Grove and the other from Spring Valley, were fatally injured Friday when their van collided with a tractor trailer rig on a freeway turnoff ramp on Interstate 5 northwest of Bakersfield, California, CHP reported.

Kathleen Lupe Serrano, 19, of 9731 Sierra Madre road, Spring Valley, was dead on arrival at Kern General Hospital.

Juliana E. Johnson, 22, of 7345 Alberdi dr., Lemon Grove, a passenger in the van, died six hours later.

Witnesses said that the van, stopped to "give her a ride," taking the highway 46 turnoff, failed to stop at the end of the ramp and collided with the truck.

Letters... Letters

An inordinate number of letters to the editor are being published in this issue to accommodate a concerted effort to influence voters at the upcoming school board elections Tuesday.

By far, the greatest number came from teacher-inspired writers who were responding to the Grossmont Education Association's instruction to support the incumbent, Robert Andreen and Kenneth Whit-

Coupee to be M.C. At OTD Party Saturday

All you can eat and drink is included in the ten dollars a person charged for the Get Acquainted Buffet and Dance sponsored by the Old Time Days Association.

The affair will be Saturday at Monte Vista Lodge, 2211 Massachusetts, Lemon Grove, at 7 p.m., according to Wayne Hillman, chairman of the Old Time Days Association.

The gathering will be a kick-off for the annual Old Time Days Parade which will be April 26 at 11 a.m., he said. Chairman of the parade is Tom Stein.

Hillman said Tuesday that Al Coupee, Television, radio and newspaper personality, said he would serve as Saturday's function as master of ceremonies without charge. Coupee gets as much as $2,500 for an appearance at times.

Coupee is a former Iron Man of Iowa State's famed football team in 1939 and played later with the Washington Redskins. He is a former Gold-

No Board Action On CEC Request

An executive session of the Lemon Grove School Board lasting over an hour produced no verdict regarding a teacher salary increase proposal presented by the Certificated Employee Council two weeks ago.

The issue was tabled for further study.

The CEC requested a salary revision, effective in the current fiscal year, at the February 11th board meeting.

Also at Tuesday's meeting, the board sanctioned contract negotiations with the county to implement a Metric Transition Project, a three-year plan of inservice training for the federally mandated metric conversion initiative. Bulk of the funding for the project comes from the County.

Polygraph Test Ordered For Student Kidnap Suspects

Would-be kidnappers find the going tough in the east causing traffic to back up. It was the Cad with an obviously frightened girl inside with the two men.

The girl was hysterical as the deputies transferred her of the polygraph test.

That's what two suspects learned from the sheriff's department this week. Two black males driving a white 1975 Cadillac stopped long enough at Sweetwater Springs rd. and Jamacha blvd. Monday afternoon to get a 15-year old white girl into their car.

All three agree that the men stopped to "give her a ride." The girl, a Monte Vista High school student, said she was forced into the car under a threat of death.

Crisis Cottage Group Resigns

A small revolution is occurring in Lemon Grove's Crisis Cottage.

Eighteen members of the group, some of them officials, have disassociated from the organization.

Ray Heiserman, spokesman for the revolting group, said that one of the officers, who is running for the school board in Lemon Grove, is using his connection with the Crisis Cottage in campaign advertising.

Heiserman said that the resigning group has been meeting three times a week and that the work will be continued but at a different location.

In Lemon Grove, placards for Fred Anderson refer to the Crisis Cottage. Anderson is seeking to win a seat on the school board.

Crisis Cottage was formed several months ago when the building, owned by Dr. Peter Shea, was offered for counseling services free of charge for six months.

Anderson is contesting James V. Dorman and Henry Reinecke, Jr., two present school trustees for one of their posts.

Woman's Group Develop New Spring Valley Park

A weed-covered eyesore is development of the project by her husband, Herb Ketell, she said, who is president of the Ketell, Community Improve-ment chairman of the Spring Valley Woman's club.

The "mini-park" is at the corner of Jamacha blvd. and Huron st. and it culminates two years of work by the woman's group.

The contract for establishing the park has been let to the Jennings Landscape Co. and includes the planting of trees, shrubs, providing irrigation, concrete walkways and benches.

Mrs. Ketell was aided in the

Cops Crack 'Pot' Ring

Drug traffic in the Lemon Grove Junior High school was diminished by three members last week according to local officers of the deputy sheriffs department.

The "crack-down" started when school authorities notified officers that marijuana use, by at least one student, was suspected.

Deputies found 5.3 grams of marijuana and two packages of Zig-zag papers on a 14-year old student who confessed that he had purchased it from another 14-year old boy. That youngster admitted that he had bought it from a 12-year old student who claimed he found it in an area theatre and thought it would be "a good way to make some money."

If the youthful "ring" was not convinced that marijuana could get them in trouble after a conference with the police, they changed their minds when officers turned the trio over to their respective parents.

Police charged two with El Cajon Municipal Court.

Man Faces Charge Of Gun-Shooting

Joseph F. Connelly, of 6721 San Miguel st., Lemon Grove, complained to the sheriff's department Friday that a neighbor was firing a pistol from his window in the direction of his three small children who were riding mini-bikes in a field near the house.

Deputies arrived in time to observe a suspect aim a shotgun from the same window and fire it in the direction of the youngsters 100 yards away.

Booked on a charge of discharging firearms near dwellings was James Frederick Barker 19, of 6751 San Miguel who is said to have fired the pistol and the shotgun.

Barker will be arraigned in

Turnbull Lends Hand to Palm Springs Chaplaincy

Bob Turnbull of Lemon Grove, internationally known as "The Chaplain of Waikiki Beach," and the president and founder of the World Resort Chaplaincies, is spending several months in Palm Springs to help start the Palm Springs Resort Chaplaincy, the second resort outreach. The Waikiki Beach Chaplaincy in Honolulu is the initial one.

The Palm Springs Chaplaincy began in September and has grown to include the following features: Sunday services primarily for tourists; two radio programs, a month-long bible seminar, in-depth counseling, two staff members serving as police chaplains, weekly home Bible studies, and 24-hour emergency services to tourists.

Aside from Turnbull, the permanent staff consists of Jeff Sanders, recent graduate of Oral Roberts University and the Chaplaincy's director; Miley Christopherson, administrator, who spent the past 12 years as a parish worker in Honolulu; and the Rev. Jim Buckelew, counselor and hotel motel coordinator.

Area Funeral Services

Survivors include her husband, Donald of Spring Valley; a son, Roland Godin; one brother, and two sisters.

Howard Fowler

Services were held Friday, February 14 at Mt. Hope Cemetery for Howard R. Fowler, 67, of 2602 Sheri Ln., Lemon Grove, who died February 12 at a local convalescent hospital. He was employed as a bus driver and had been a county resident for four months.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Lillian Fowler of Lemon Grove; a son, John of Boulder Creek; and two sisters.

Juliana Johnson

Evening mass was held Tuesday and funeral mass was held Wednesday at Santa Sophia Church in Spring Valley for Juliana E. Johnson, 22, of 7345 Alberdi dr., Lemon Grove. Born in San Diego, she was a homemaker who resided in this area for 20 years.

Mrs. Johnson died Friday as a result of an automobile accident in Bakersfield, California (which also took the life of Katherine Serrano of Spring Valley).

Interment was at Holy Cross Cemetery. Services were directed by Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary.

Survivors include her husband, Milton Johnson; a daughter, Jocelyn Johnson; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Mears of Bonita; a sister, Marjorie Mears of Bonita; three brothers, Joseph D. Mears, Van M. Johnson, and Robert A. Mears; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Van Rhyn of Spring Valley and Mr. and Mrs. Newton Mears of San Diego.

Mable Vermillion

Services were held a week ago Monday for Mable Vermillion, 81, of 8422 Golden ave., Lemon Grove.

A county resident for 63 years, she passed away on February 12.

Services were held at Greenwood Mortuary under the auspices of the San Miguel Chapter No. 579 Order of the Eastern Star.

Survivors include two nieces, Mrs. Clayton L. Grogan of La Mesa and Mrs. Mable Ellis of Chula Vista; a nephew, Eugene L.; one great-niece, and six great great nieces and nephews.

Katherine Serrano

Evening mass was held Tuesday and funeral mass was held Wednesday for Katherine L. Serrano, 19, of 9731 Sierra Madre rd., Spring Valley, who died in an automobile accident in Bakersfield, California (also killed was Juliana Johnson).

A native of the area, Miss Serrano was a student at Grossmont College.

Interment was at Holy Cross Cemetery in San Diego.

Services were directed by Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary.

Surviving are her mother, Adela Bennis, Spring Valley; three sisters, Rosario, Sharon and Anita, all of Spring Valley; two brothers, Alfred and William, of Spring Valley; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Serrano of San Diego.

Jewelry, Cash Missing

Someone entered the front unlocked door of the home of Donald William Shea at 432 Holz st., in Spring Valley on February 28 and made off with $340 worth of loot. The intruder took an heirloom ring; two diamond rings; two pairs of earrings; six costume rings and $40 in cash.

FOUNDERS DAY — Twelve persons (names below) were honored last Thursday at a combined Founders Day-Honorary Service get-together at the Lemon Grove Junior High school. Theme of the meeting was 'Gift of Love' with Peggy Ryan emulating 'Little Shirley Temple'.

12 Receive Service Award At L.G. Founders Day Fete

Twelve persons were honored Thursday night at the 5th annual PTA combined Founders Day and Honorary Service awards presentation at the Lemon Grove Junior High School auditorium.

Those newly honored and their schools were: Philip Johnston and Mrs. Kathy Yeager; Mrs. Dale Chamberlain, Monterey Heights; Mrs. Victor (Betty) Riska, Lemon Grove Jr. High; Mrs. Clyde (Gwen) Bierly and Mrs. Wiley (Emily) Cornelius, San Miguel; Mrs. Tom (Yvonne) Ruddock and Mr. Edward Perkins, Vista La Mesa; Mrs. Robert (Judy) Gould, San Altos; Mrs. Edward (Carol) Dale and Mr. Roland Purvis, Golden Ave.; Mrs. Doris Shurley, Palm Jr. High.

Mt. Vernon school was not able to attend and they will hold theirs on their regular Unit Meeting night.

'Gift of Love' Theme of the program was "Gift of Love" with Art Thomas as master of ceremonies and Mrs. Joseph Luschner as Founders Day chairman. Dr. Robert Sutton, Superintendent of the Lemon Grove School District welcomed the audience.

Invocation was given by Monsignor William A. Bergin of the Holy Spirit Catholic Church and the Flag Ceremony was presented by Girl Scout Troop 735 and Boy Scout Troop 153 Vista La Mesa School.

The presentations were hilarious with even a visit from "Little Shirley Temple" (alias Peggy Ryan).

Bach's 'Passion' Performed at St. Paul's Church

St. Paul's Episcopal Church, 2701 Fifth ave., San Diego, presents the entire "Passion According to St. Matthew" by Johann Sebastian Bach on Sunday, March 13, at 4:30 p.m., performed by the parish choir and soloists.

In the protestant church of Germany, it is still the custom, as it was long before Bach's day, to hold services during Holy Week at which the Gospel narrative of the Passion is read, punctuated by hymns in which the congregation joins. Services of this kind were found to lend themselves to elaboration, and developed naturally into musical settings of the Passion. Of these the greatest is "The Passion According to St. Matthew" by Johann Sebastian Bach.

There will be a break for dinner after which the concert will resume at 8 p.m. Dinner will be served in the Great Hall. Advance reservations are required and may be made by calling the church office, 298-7261. The concert alone is $3; with dinner, $6.

Danny Kaye to Receive NCCJ's Brotherhood Award, March 20

Famed entertainer and humanitarian, Danny Kaye, has been selected to receive the International Brotherhood Award of the National Conference of Christians and Jews at the NCCJ's annual Citation Awards Dinner, held March 20.

Dr. David Hyatt, national president of NCCJ, will make the presentation to Kaye who is known worldwide for his dedicated service to the United Nations International Children's Educational Fund (UNICEF). The dinner will be at 7 p.m. in the Embarcadero Convention Center in the Royal Inn at the Wharf. There will be a no-host reception at 6 p.m.

Second Recipient "This will be only the second time the NCCJ has made an international award of this kind," said Dr. Jacob H. Cunningham, executive director of the San Diego Region. "And that award was also presented here in San Diego, last year, to Bob Hope for his great service to American men and women in uniform with his annual Christmas tours."

Dr. Cunningham said Danny Kaye has "Given unselfishly of his time and talent to stimulate and educate the children of the world." Kaye has just recently returned to the U.S. from a tour for UNICEF to Great Britain, England, Norway, Sweden, France and Switzerland.

Although he has starred in Broadway plays and Hollywood films, conducted symphony orchestras and performed at supper clubs in a show business career that spans more than 30 years, Kaye says his greatest satisfaction comes from making a child laugh.

Baseball Fan He also considers himself a "number one fan" of the Los Angeles Dodgers baseball team. In fact, it was through the invitation by "Buzzie" Bavasi, San Diego Padres general manager and former manager of the Dodgers, that the NCCJ made its contact with Kaye to inform him of the award.

Mrs. Jay Hopper of Lemon Grove received the Honorary Service Award from the Foot-hills Secondary PTA Council at a recent Founders Day luncheon.

Mrs. Hopper has served on several organizations for the benefit of the community. In 1950, she organized the "County Learn to Swim Program" at Gillespie Pool, and has taught swimming to handicapped children. She has served on the Board of Directors for "Project Concern," is a chairwoman on the Board of Trustees at Lemon Grove Methodist Church and chaired the Heartland Human Relations Committee on Housing.

She has made numerous appearances before the County Board of Supervisors and the City Council to promote the interests of the community. She has served on the Lemon Grove Planning Committee and is a past president of the Lemon Grove Association.

Despite her busy schedule, Mrs. Hopper has still found time for work with the PTA.

Safe Contents Taken There was $655 of which $287 was in cash in the cash box when he put it in the safe Saturday night. But on Monday, February 17, the cash box was empty, according to William Howard Smith, shop owner.

The safe was that in the Ranchers H Bar R shop at 7473 Broadway in Lemon Grove.

Flu Peak Passes

San Diego County's influenza outbreak has reached its peak and is subsiding, according to Dr. Donald G. Ramras, acting director of public health. "School absenteeism has dropped to 7 and 8 percent in selected elementary and high schools respectively," he noted. Influenza and similar upper respiratory illnesses are usually not widespread in the community unless the absentee rate is 10 percent or above, he explained.

Three Films Shown at Lemon Grove Library

Three films will be shown Thursday, March 6 at 7 p.m. at the Lemon Grove Library, 7735 Pacific ave.

The program begins with "Man, Monsters and Mysteries," a Walt Disney film that features Nessie, the Loch Ness Monster and provides information on the historical controversy over that monster. "Scramble," the second film, is about motorcycles and motorcycle riders and "The Ride" is a slapstick comedy.

"World of the Sea," an educational complex that combines graphics, huge aquariums, educational displays and sea creatures that may be hand-held for close study, has opened at Sea World.

Formal dedication ceremonies took place February 20, and the completed exhibit is now open to Sea World visitors.

Presented by the Atlantic Richfield Company, "World of the Sea" demonstrates that exploration of the sea's "inner space" can be as exciting as that of outer space.

Features include many types of marine animals, as well as graphic displays depicting the centuries-long exploration of the sea.

Surrounding the exhibit area is a lushly landscaped tropical rain-forest. Ferns, trees and plants flank rushing waterfalls which empty into two tropical streams.

"World of the Sea" begins at the sea's borders, with an

A juried Intercollegiate Art Exhibition will be on view at the Fine Arts Gallery of San Diego, March 2 through April 6. Sponsored by the San Diego City College Association Student Council, the exhibition will be comprised of paintings, graphics, ceramics and sculpture. There will be $1200 in awards offered.

Participating two or four year colleges include, USD, UCSD, SDSU, USIU, Point Loma College, Palomar College, Grossmont City College, Mesa City College, Southwestern City College, Oceanside College and all local evening colleges.

A preview reception will be held, Sunday, from 2 to 5 p.m. The exhibition may be viewed free of charge thereafter during regular Gallery hours.

La Mesa Rec. Plans Ice Cream Social

The La Mesa Recreation Department sponsors an old fashioned ice cream social Sunday at the La Mesa Adult center, 8450 La Mesa Blvd. from 3 to 5:30 p.m.

Gay Nineties songs, music and skits will be presented by a chorus of 30 men and women, arranged by Evelyn Estabrook. A donation fee of $1.50 includes refreshments and entertainment.

The public is invited, but reservations must be made at 469-3663.

YOUNG PIANISTS Patty Aird of Dulzura and Ron Baldwin of Lemon Grove practice for Lee Clapham's annual recital at Lemon Grove Junior High on Sunday. Patty and Ron perform the finale numbers.

47 to Perform Sun. at Clapham's 18th Recital

Forty-seven piano and guitar students are scheduled to participate in Lee Clapham's 18th Annual Midwinter Recital, Sunday, March 2, at Lemon Grove Junior High School.

The program, in three parts, begins at 1:25 p.m.

Final numbers will be performed by Patty Aird and Ron Baldwin of Lemon Grove. Patty will play two Scott Joplin tunes, "The Entertainer" and "Maple Leaf Rag". Ron, an honor performer, will close the recital with "Scherzo, Opus 31" by Chopin.

Other honor performers appearing at the recital include Carla Barnhill, Teresa and Brenda Bartow, Barbara Clapham, Dianne Clarkson and Linda and Lisa Jennings, all of Lemon Grove.

The public is invited to attend the recital.

Beals Daughter Wed

Carol A. Beals, daughter of Edward P. Beals, San Diego and Mrs. Nadine Beals, Spring Valley, and Robert A. Taylor, son of Dr. and Mrs. Witt Taylor, of Fallbrook, exchanged marriage vows in the Trinity Presbyterian Church, Spring Valley, on February 1.

Mrs. Oakley Hall, grandmother of the bride, was the Matron of Honor.

Best man was Steve Taylor, brother of the bridegroom. Usher and photographer was Gary Beals, brother of the bride.

A reception was held at the Naval Admiral Kidd Officer's Club. The couple reside in El Cajon.

What makes it noteworthy is that far more residents of Lemon Grove can see the display than La Mesans who are paying the bill for it. The bill runs about $2,500 each year.

This year the group, identified as the L.M. Fireworks Fund, and which includes civic leaders such as Harry Wiley, the retired Postmaster of La Mesa, is asking Lemon Grove groups and individuals to share financially in the undertaking.

It would be proper if we were to respond agreeably even if the contribution is small.

If we participate, those of us on the south side of the hill could identify it as the Lemon Grove Fourth of July Display and any holiday activity could be associated with the fireworks show as the day's climax. It would indeed enhance the quality of our patriotic life on July 4.

What's equally significant is that next year — the year of the Centennial — it could be enlarged to become the mid-year centerpiece for the 100-year celebration.

Service clubs and other groups desiring guidance on the project should contact the editor of this publication.

This Week's RECIPE

Chili With Character

Home made chili is without character because the home cook usually approaches the project half-heartedly.

Everything about chili-making must be bold. It must be meaty enough; hot enough; cooked enough, and just as important as anything, enough of it must be cooked at one time to prove that the cook is optimistic.

That is why the "One-half Gallon Chili" is gaining fame. Here's our recipe:

3 pounds hamburger
2 onions (fine cut)
1 bottle ketchup
1/4 teaspoon red pepper
2/3 teaspoon chili powder
Salt to taste

Boil hamburger in 1-quart or 3 pints of water for 1 hour. Add onion, ketchup, chili powder, salt and pepper and cook until thick. Cook slowly stirring often. (Also makes a great hot dog sauce.)

Inflation hasn't changed the price of ashes.

But it has changed the price of your home. For example, if you bought a $20,000 home in 1968—today it's worth about $27,000. Don't be left with a costly pile of ashes. See me about a State Farm Homeowners Policy that will cover your home for all it's worth... and keep it that way with automatic inflation coverage.

GOODE FOR GROSSMONT

RE-ELECT

PORTIA 'PEG' GOODE

to represent you on the board of

Grossmont Community College

Paid for by the Campaign Committee to Re-Elect Portia 'Peg' Goode.

Your Vote Tuesday
For Goode Is a Vote
For the Best in Education

Because you asked.

In our continuing dialog with the community, SDG&E is asked certain questions again and again. Since they represent areas of special concern to a great many people, we will answer these "most-asked" questions for all of our customers through this series of newspaper columns.

Let's Talk Costs & Profits

1. What is SDG&E doing to cut costs so bills could possibly be lower?

We have been doing a great deal to cut costs, both large and small. Two of our main efforts have been to reduce hiring and overtime and to cut construction expenditures wherever possible. In early 1974, a detailed reappraisal of our construction program produced a reduction of $22.9 million for the year. In addition, by the end of 1974 we had held our work force to an increase of only 12 employees compared with year end employment in 1973. This was despite a 26,160 gain in electric customers and a 12,509 gain in gas customers during the same period. Other considerable efforts have been made in the areas of operating efficiency, budgeting, cash management, and trimming transportation costs. However, we do not foresee lower bills in the future. Our cost-cutting programs can only serve to help customer bills climb less rapidly... a goal we are actively pursuing.

2. Instead of customers paying increased rates, why can't SDG&E stockholders take decreased profits?

We must make the investments of our stockholders worthwhile because we simply could not operate without these funds.

In the next five years, we will have to raise approximately $1 billion in capital for necessary plant construction and system development. While in 1969 we were able to raise 63% of our capital requirements internally, today we can only raise about 20%. The rest... 80%! ...must come from outside lenders and investors. Therefore, we must maintain our financial health to obtain the most economical rates on borrowed funds, to provide our current investors reasonable payment for the use of their money and to attract the new investors we will need as we grow with San Diego.

3. Why does SDG&E spend money on advertising when it is a monopoly?

It is because we are a regulated monopoly that we have a responsibility to keep our customers informed. We believe that it's important for you to know why your rates are going up. How you can best use your gas and electricity. And how you can help in the nationwide effort to stop energy waste.

SDG&E serves about 595,000 electric customers, of whom nearly 422,000 are also gas customers. Advertising is simply the easiest, most economical way to reach all of you with information you're not only entitled to, but which many of you have expressed a desire for.

4. How much would it save if you cut out advertising?

Our advertising expenditures in 1974 were nearly $530,000 or around $1 a customer for the whole year. That expense is in itself a savings, since advertising serves a customer need for information which is more expensive to provide by other methods.

5. How do SDG&E profits now compare with profits before all these big increases?

The standard measure of corporate profits is the earnings per share of common stock. SDG&E's earnings declined from $1.90 a share in 1972 to $1.78 in 1973. Our earnings per share for calendar 1974 were $2.09. However, these 1974 earnings were increased 46 cents a share by the unexpected and non-recurring sale of undelivered surplus oil. Without that 46 cents, earnings per share would have been only $1.63.

To assure a reliable oil supply, we must make long-term contracts based on estimated needs. We had contracted for a certain amount of oil for 1974. However, when low-cost hydroelectric power from the Northwest became available to us, we used it rather than burn more expensive oil and raise your costs even more. We also had an unusually warm year and were able to use more gas in our plants than we had expected. As a result, we did not need all of the oil we had contracted for. We couldn't store it. So we sold it before ever taking delivery. It never became part of your costs, but it was figured in our profits.

6. Why is SDG&E allowed to operate as a monopoly?

First, it should be noted that we are not an uncontrolled monopoly. We are very carefully regulated by the Public Utilities Commission and in your interest must justify our rate increases, expenditures and rate of return.

We are the only company providing you with gas and electricity because it is more economical to offer these basic services from one source. Our utility represents an investment of over $1 billion. If we were not a monopoly, a second utility could be serving the same area with the same investment. This duplication in generating equipment, distribution systems and service costs would result in tremendous monetary waste and incredibly high prices for the consumer.

7. What percentage of each customer's dollar goes into SDG&E's profits and what are they used for?

Profits are defined as net income after all expenses have been paid. In 1974, 13¢ of each revenue dollar was net income. Of that, 4¢ was reinvested in the company for plant expansion and extension of service. As of December 31, 1974, we had $1,395 of capital invested for each electric customer and $430 for each gas customer.

The remaining 9¢ of net income was returned to our shareholders as dividends or payment for the use of their invested funds.

For more information...

If you have additional questions on this subject, we will do our best to provide answers. Please write: Mr. John Hamrick, Vice President—Marketing, SDG&E, P.O. Box 1831, San Diego, CA 92112.

Hear in Comeback Try Friday At Coliseum

Hoping to end a losing skid known Arturo Leon, he announced his ring retirement. Three weeks later, however, Jimmy Hear returns to action the Mississippi native had a change of heart and was back in the gym.

"I realize now that quitting would've been a big mistake," Jimmy concludes. "Boxing has been good to me and at 22, I have most of my good years ahead of me."

Despite defeats in three of his last four starts, Hear still owns an impressive record of 37-4.

Hear's frustration came to a head on January 18th after dropping a decision to little-known Ferrat, a favorite in Mexican rings for nearly a decade, is a rugged pro who holds a career slate of 62-7-1 with 39 knockouts. He needs a win over Hear to keep a previously scheduled engagement next month in South Africa.

It was also announced by promoter Mickey Davies that hard hitting light heavyweight Carlos Tijerina of Pacific Beach will headline the Coliseum card on March 7th.

Last Week
Art Hafey, San Diego's ranking featherweight, dropped Julio Leal in the second, third and eighth rounds of their 10-round main event Friday.

Hafey, missing more and wilder than usual, couldn't solve Leal's dance-about style to the point where he could corner him and provide the knockout most fans expected.

Hafey, who slugs like a heavyweight, will need to practice control if he is to rise higher than fifth on world boxing charts, a position he has held for many months.

But Leal did the same thing to Manny Lujan the week before when that fight was called a draw. Some fans thought it was a home-town decision and that Leal had won. But it ended Lujan's winning streak of 13-0.

Lightweight Rudy Hernandez of La Palma won a unanimous decision over Rogelio Moring of Stockton in an 8-round match. It was Hernandez' 15 consecutive victory.

Chargers, Too
Charger coaches John David Crow and Jackie Simpson will play as will many Charger players. They include Jeff Staggs, Joe Beauchamp, Gary Garrison, Steve DeLong, Doug Wilkerson and Coy Bacon.

Other NFL players in the celebrity field are Jim Hill, Willie Buchanan, John Brockington (Packers), Marc Nordquist (Eagles), Jeff Severson (Oilers), Marion Pottius (Redskins).

Former Dodgers Ed Roebuck and Don Newcombe, NBC announcer Charlie Jones, NFL referee Fred Swearingen, Derel Thomas (Giants), former Charger Lance Alworth, world land record holder Gary Gabelich and Babe Herman of the Daffy Dogs will participate.

The Los Angeles Rams will be represented by players Dave Elmendorf, Bill Nelson and Rob Scribner and former Ram Les Richter.

Persons interested in playing should contact either the Press Club or Whispering Palms. The public is invited to attend.

State Swimmers Near End

San Diego State's swim team will take the week off to prepare for the PCAA Swim Finals March 6-8 in Long Beach.

Last week the Aztecs ran their final dual meet record to 7-3 with a 58-45 win over UC Santa Barbara.

The Aztecs won the 400-yard medley relay, 1,000 freestyle, 1-meter diving, 200 butterfly, 100 freestyle, and 200 backstroke among their eight first places.

Nothing has come easy for to win the PCAA champion—the San Diego State basketball ship and advance to the first team this year and the final round of the NCAA Playoffs week of the season will be no but all they must do is defeat exception.

Los Alamitos Opens Friday

LOS ALAMITOS — The fourth annual 55-night Los Alamitos harness racing meeting will begin Friday at the Orange County track with some of the most unique ideas in harness racing history planned for the nine-week meeting.

New General Manager Dan Downs, who left his position as assistant General Manager with the Houston Oilers to accept the Los Alamitos job, is planning some interesting ideas with plenty of prizes for the racing fans.

Among the more unique ideas which will be employed during the season is the weekly "Hot To Trot" nights scheduled for each Wednesday of the meeting. A fan will be selected at random each week and will actually become involved in the world of harness racing — winning the opportunity to drive a sulky around the track, dinner for four, a race named in his honor and $100 in script good for wagering at the Los Alamitos windows. The only requirement is a "I'm Hot To Trot" bumper sticker must be on the bumper of the winner's car.

Celebrity Night
Another innovation this year will be "Celebrity Nights" set for each Thursday night of the meet where celebrities from the television, radio, newspapers and motion picture industry will compete in weekly races with the weekly winners racing in the Championship on the final Thursday.

From the racing standpoint, many of the top horses and drivers in the country will be present for the meeting, including California's first woman driver, Bea Farber.

Bea Farber is the only lady to ever win a major driving championship at a mutual track and is the only woman to drive a two-minute mile on a half-mile track. She recently completed the northern California Bay Meadows meeting first time, both male and female track athletes and a age of any driver at the track.

Padre Players Aid San Diego Youth Team

Members of the San Diego Padres baseball team lent support to the planned trip to Japan, Hawaii and China by the San Diego Youth Team when several of the baseball players signed up to sponsor a youth team walker in the "Walk for International Friendship" on Sunday, March 9.

Among sponsors are third baseman Dave Roberts, center fielder Johnny Grubb and pitcher Rich Troedson, all of whom agreed to donate by the mile for a youth team member to walk the 21 mile "Marathon" course around Mission Bay and La Jolla.

More than 1,000 young athletes and their friends are expected to participate in the second walk to raise money for an overseas tour. The first walk in 1973 sent 40 young track and field athletes to Scandinavia.

This year's fund raiser will send 70 15-19 year old San Diego County athletes on a five week tour of the Orient. The completed the northern California Bay Meadows meeting first time, both male and female track athletes and a age of any driver at the track.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

It just ain't true. Women are not hated here. In their place, they are pretty nice folks. Why, I even married one of the critters.

And in the 25 years we've been hitched, she has blessed our union with six offsprings. Three boys and three of the other kind. None of which understand me, nor I them.

I am, however, honor bound and prideful to tell you of one of them. The oldest. A girl. Mary Margaret. And it 21 she has a mind as sharp as a man's.

But like females the world over, she refuses to mind her own business. If she doesn't like something, she does her damndest to change it.

A case in point: World poverty and a concern for people prompted her into the Peace Corps. She serves in Paraguay.

And right now, she damn near could be the cause of an international incident.

There are those in soccer circles down Paraguay way that are upset with what she had done, is doing and probably will continue to do.

Oh, the kids down there love it, and their parents do too. But those soccer folks... they ain't about to take it without a fight.

And it all started here. In San Diego. On the beach. My female girl-child grew up to be a beach freak.

She's a hard-working type, doing this and that to earn her way through San Diego State. Mostly she worked beach hotel tables in summer and herded kids as a teaching aide during the school year. She TA'd first at Einstein Junior High, then at La Jolla High. She did her student teaching at San Diego, serving up English as a second language to Spanish speakers.

Through hard work, study and talent, my daughter turned into a bilingual sports nut. Spanish, Guarani (the Paraguayan Indian language, basketball, football and baseball were all languages she learned to master. And that's a considerable accomplishment for a girl.

She loves the Padres, the Q's and the old Gulls. She worked the press elevator at Charger games for a couple of years and is now the southern most member of the Charger Backers in the world.

Mary joined the Peace Corps out of college and just extended for her third year to become agriculture coordinator for all girl-type volunteers in Paraguay. Not bad for a city kid.

Paraguay, in case you didn't know, is a land-locked, mountainous country sandwiched between Bolivia, Brazil and Argentina. And it lies deep in the heart of soccer country.

Now, what is one thing one never does with a soccer ball? Right! One never hits one with one's hands. Not only is such a thing a violation of soccer law, it's damn near a civil sacrilege.

Sud Americanos take their soccer seriously. Murder, riot, mayhem and multitudinous misdeemeanors have been committed in its name. Little League Mothers could take lessons from soccer fans.

So, what does a beach freak do with a soccer ball? You guessed it. She strung up a clothes line, threw a blanket over it and taught her "compo" kids how to play volleyball. She took the beach right into the mountains with her.

The kids took to it right away. Once they got used to the idea of hitting the ball with their hands, the rest was easy. And it follows that the first All-Paraguayan Invitational Volleyball tournament was a huge success. Except to the soccer folks. They were stunned.

But if they think what she did with a soccer ball was unendurable, wait till they hear what she thinks about women-power. My female type girl-child grew up to be a dedicated female type libber. She thinks women should vote, hold office, even become president.

I told you I didn't understand her. But what can you expect from someone who hits a soccer ball with her hands?

Mike Johnson Takes 1-1 Basketball Title

A One-on-One basketball tournament at Lemon Grove Junior High school was won by Mike Johnson last week.

Eighth grader John trounced John Alvarez 21-19 and 21-9.

Then he defeated seventh grade champ Larry Brooks 21-13 and 21-12. Brooks won the seventh grade title by beating Derek Bumanglag 21-0 and 21-11.

Johnson, 5-10 and 140 plays basketball in the Spring Valley Recreation Center League and is an in-coming freshman at Mt. Miguel High.

The tourney was directed by P.E. teacher Bob McGregor.

Gifts, Rock Listed On Q's Arena Agenda

The Indiana Pacers, led by George McGinnis, the all-star forward, will take on the San Diego Q's Friday at the Sports Arena. 8 o'clock is dribble time.

McGinnis is currently leading ABA scorer and to win, the Q's will have to find a way to block out the shooting whiz.

The evening has been designated as Merchants Night. Local merchants are giving away many gifts including a

Hoop-Rock Marriage

A basketball first for San Diego will be Sunday's happening, when the Q's battle the Denver Nuggets, leaders in the ABA west. Following the game, which begins at 7 p.m., there will be a concert featuring rock star Dave Mason and his special guests, Canned Heat.

Regular ticket prices of $7, $6, $5 and $3 will prevail for this unique Basketball/Rock doubleheader.

Moving into the last month of the season, the Q's are at the point where they must make a strong move towards closing in on a post-season playoff spot. With 9 of the next 10 games at home, the Q's are in the most crucial part of their schedule. The next nine games:

Friday, Indiana Tuesday, Utah. Wednesday, Mar. 5, Utah. Friday, Mar. 7, Indiana. Sunday, Mar. 9, Memphis. Wednesday, Mar. 12, Virginia. Saturday, Mar. 15, Kentucky. Wednesday, Mar. 19, Memphis.

Records

Bo Lamar set a new ABA record on February 16 against the Kentucky Colonels... He scored 13 points in the overtime period, which is a new league mark... San Diego won the game 133-128.

The ABA league office has released officially that in the record setting 4-overtime victory by the Q's over the New York Nets on Feb. 14, seven new league records were set and two were tied.

Bus Trips, Lectures Teach Area History

The opportunity to learn more about the natural history of the San Diego area is provided by Grossmont College during a series of lectures and bus field trips.

The class meets from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. beginning today and continuing March 13, 20, April 3 and 24. Field trips are scheduled for Thursday, March 6, 27, April 10, 17, May 1. The programs will be presented in the First United Methodist Church, 4690 Palm Ave., La Mesa.

With William Sullivan serving as instructor, San Diego area animal and bird life, native and exotic plants, as well as marine life and ancient human inhabitants, will be studied and discovered.

Each bus trip lasting from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. will cost $1.50 and will be limited to 41 persons on a first paid, first served basis. Senior Gold Card holders will only be charged $1.25. There is no charge for the lectures and no limit on

Record Entries Seen For Orange Raceway

EAST IRVINE — A flood of early entries points to a record Grand American West drag event March 7, 8 and 9 at Orange County International Raceway. Cosponsored this year by the New York publishers of CARS and ARGOSY Magazines, the third annual AHRA classic will provide an estimated 500 contestants with nine distinct eliminator categories, including all four professional divisions: Top Fuel, Funny Car, Pro Comp and Pro Stock.

Raceway GM Blaine Laux cites two key reasons for the unparalleled early interest in the 1975 event: A cash purse exceeding $100,000 and AHRA's recent loss of Fremont Raceway in northern California.

"In the past, West Coast drivers could race three Grand American events a year without leaving home or work for more than a weekend," said Laux. "But since AHRA dropped the Fremont sanction, our March race becomes their only opportunity all year to set national records, score points and win some decent prize money this side of Phoenix" (site of January's AHRA Winter Nationals).

G.A. 'Points'

Racers who reset a national record or fare well during class and final eliminations are rewarded with Grand American "points," explains Laux, in addition to various purse awards. These tallies, totaled after each season's final series event, ultimately determine a World Champion in each eliminator category.

And of ten scheduled 1975 series contests, Orange County has been allocated only the Grand American West.

Sportsman time trials open the weekend at 5 p.m. Friday, March 7. Side-by-side "pro" qualifying is featured from 7-10:30 p.m. A full Saturday program begins at 10 a.m. with more time trials, and concludes with a final round of "pro" qualifications from 7:30 'til 11 p.m.

Coral Room Renovated

The Coral Room in the Master Hosts Inn, Mission Valley, has had a $300,000 face-lifting. Traditionally one of the better San Diego night clubs, it will present its new image this week with a top-to-bottom renovation.

The new theme is "Silver Palms" with a lush, plush outdoor tropical setting. The motif is a color combination of midnight blue, parrot green and an abundance of silver palms.

The Bruce Davis Quintet remains—in its 5th year of Coral Inn entertainment.

Silver Palms is open to the public seven nights a week.

Midgets Inked For S.B.-C.V.

Two-time Indianapolis-500 winning car owner, J. C. Agajanian announced that he will stage a pair of USAC National Championship Midget auto races at two Southern California tracks during the month of March.

He'll present a 100-lap race at the Orange Show Speedway on the National Orange Show Grounds in San Bernardino on Saturday night, March 8, the night before the California 500. The race will be known as the KPRO-Radio Sweepstakes.

The race will feature a 100-lap main event starting 20 cars, plus a 12-lap semi-final, four 10-lap heat races and a four-lap trophy dash. Racing starts at 8:30 p.m., preceded by time trials at 7 p.m. on the quarter-mile paved oval.

This will be the first USAC sanctioned race at the San Bernardino track since 1970, when Hank Butcher of San Leandro won a similar event.

Champ's Hall to Fete Top Athletes March 10

In a field of strong candidates Don Woods and Dennis Conner have been named San Diego's sports Stars of the Year for 1974 and will join a lineup of other top athletes receiving honors at the 29th annual Banquet of Champions Monday, March 10, at the Town and Country Convention Center.

Woods, the ball-carrying sensation of the San Diego Chargers, was voted the best professional and Conner led the amateurs in a ballot conducted by the Breitbard Awards Committee of San Diego's Hall of Champions.

In his first season with the Chargers the hard-running Woods piled up 1162 yards rushing to surpass the long-standing San Diego record held by Paul Lowe. That figure also goes into the books as a new NFL rookie record.

Woods was picked as the AFC "Rookie of the Year" and he also was the choice of the Associated Press as the NFL "Offensive Rookie of the Year."

Yachtsman Conner accumulated comparable credits in yachting, climaxing his year with an outstanding performance in the internationally-famous America's Cup series during which he helped the United States defeat Australia.

Dr. Robert King Named Helix High Principal

Dr. Robert E. King, Assistant Director of Personnel, 1972, and Student Services Vice-Principal at Monte Vista High School from 1968 to 1969, will assume the principal's duties on April 1, when Benton Hart retires.

Prior to coming to Grossmont District, King was vice principal and principal of high and junior high schools in the Boise, Idaho area for six years.

He taught at Monte Vista in 1961-62.

King's degrees include a Bachelor of Arts in Sociology/Psychology from San Diego State, 1952; a Bachelor of Arts in Secondary Education, Idaho State University, 1955; Masters degree in Secondary School Administration, College of Idaho, 1961; and a Ph.D. in Educational Leadership and Human Behavior, USIU, 1973.

He holds a California Life General Secondary Teaching Credential and a California Life General Administrative Credential.

In addition to his administrative and teaching positions, King was a professional baseball player from 1947 to 1951, with the St. Louis Browns Minor League, and with the Milwaukee Braves Minor League from 1955 to 1958. He saw active duty as a 2nd Lt. Platoon Leader with the U. S. Marine Corps from 1952 to 1954, and is now a Colonel in the USMC Reserves.

Dr. King is active in community affairs which include membership in the Community Advisory Council for Teacher Education, USIU; Administrative Board and Chairman of the Parish Committee, First United Methodist Church, San Diego; also President of the Gen. H. M. Smith Chapter of Marine Corps Reserve Officers Association, and Chairman of the Boy Scouts of America, Eagle Board of Review, Grossmont Union High School District.

Pads Start Training At Yuma

You can smell the newly cut grass in the outfield.

You can hear the ump call "batter-up."

That's because baseball spring training season has opened.

No matter how much attention has been directed toward the play-off of basketball and hockey, or the signing of college grads by pro football teams, it's the season when the crack of the bat and the song of the peanut vendor overwhelms sports fans. Yesterday, a potential pennant-winning group of players assembled at Yuma. Beginning tomorrow, the members will have to prove the pennant will be theirs.

Following a week of intensive workouts, the Padres will meet various other major league teams who are also ready to start their training quest for the pennant.

The official season opens in San Diego on April 8 with the San Francisco Giants meeting the Padres at 7 p.m.

Zitlau Pushes Nuclear Power at Talk Here

Walter A. Zitlau, president of San Diego Gas and Electric, last week called for action to accelerate the development of nuclear power which he termed the only immediate solution to the country's energy problem.

He added, however, that for the foreseeable future, conditions indicate that rates will continue to rise.

One-Fifth the Cost
Zitlau said the cost of nuclear fuel is less than one-fifth the cost of fuel oil, which has been rising at an unprecedented rate and has accounted for most of the 37 percent increase in electric rates that occurred in 1974.

While stressing the need for the rapid development of nuclear power, Zitlau said the country must develop new domestic sources of fossil fuels and must seek out other alternate fuels.

In the meantime, he added, conservation must become a way of life for all. "It will either be voluntary or mandated, depending on the gravity of the situation," he said, "but assuredly, none of us will be able to live as he did in the past, when energy was cheap and abundant."

Immediate Solution
Zitlau said that the country cannot afford to wait decades while exotic processes such as geothermal, solar energy and fusion are perfected and brought into widespread operation because the need is immediate.

"Given our present energy situation," he said, "I can see no other prudent course but to proceed as rapidly as possible with the development of nuclear power. If we do not, the consequences will be serious for our nation's economy and its position as a world power."

Employment Director Decries Job Situation

The number of unemployed in California in January was 921,200 — an increase of 133,600 jobseekers in one month. It resulted in an unemployment rate of 9.3 percent, up from December's 9.0 percent, according to the State's Employment Development Department Director James Lorenz.

Double Digit Unemployment
"And these figures don't count people who are so discouraged that they are no longer looking for work. We would estimate that this group would add at least another 130,000 jobless people in California, which means that the actual unemployment rate would be at least 10.4 percent in January. If that's so, then we are in double digit unemployment as well as double digit inflation."

Lorenz added that the latest figures were the result of a survey in mid-January "and all our indicators since then show that the total jobless is still on the increase."

Employment Development Department's January figures (attached) show that total unemployed has risen by 219,400 over the year since January, 1974, when the unemployment rate was 7.3 percent.

Lorenz pointed out that employment in California suffered "the largest decrease between any two months since employment records were begun in 1939."

Jobs Can Control Illegal Aliens Says Van Deerlin

A dent will not be made in the illegal alien problem until it effectively forecloses job opportunities for the illegals, Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-San Diego, told a House subcommittee this week.

The only way to turn off the "lure" of jobs is by cracking down on employers who knowingly hire an illegal alien, he said.

In a statement to the House Immigration subcommittee, the San Diego congressman urged swift action on legislation to penalize such employers.

He said he wished H.R. 982, the bill before the subcommittee, were stronger but doubted a more punitive measure would get through the Senate. The pending bill would allow an employer three offenses before invoking criminal sanctions. The House has twice passed similar bills, but each time the Senate refused to act.

"I can attest firsthand to the gravity of the problems," Van Deerlin said. "Illegal aliens are taking thousands of jobs that could and should be filled by my constituents."

He said existing laws are so lax that employers can take on illegal aliens "without fear of punishment."

"Not only farmers but hotel and restaurant owners, manufacturers, processors and even the construction industry are utilizing this illicit source of semi-skilled labor," he said.

Deddeh Has Tax Forms

Assemblyman Wadie P. Deddeh announced the availability of the 1974 State Income Tax Forms at his district office.

Constituents requiring copies of these forms may pick them up in his office at 815 Third Ave., Suite 219, Chula Vista. The 1974 State Income Tax Form may also be requested by letter or by calling Assemblyman Deddeh's office at 427-7080.

"Filing income taxes is a time-consuming chore which few people look forward to doing. I hope that by making the state tax forms available through my office my constituents will be given a small, added convenience in doing their taxes," Deddeh said.

Panel to Discuss Apartment Thefts

A panel discussion on combating apartment burglaries and thefts will be presented by two members of the San Diego Police Department's Crime Prevention Bureau at today's meeting of the Apartment and Rental Owners Association.

The membership dinner meeting is held in the Grand Ball Room of the U. S. Grant Hotel, starting at 7 p.m. The panelists will be Officers Don Johnson and Rick Michelson.

Both lawmen are considered experts in the burglary and theft fields according to Karl Dege, AROA president.

Nationwide Job Program To Employ High Schoolers

High school youth — 4,500 of them — will be employed across the country as part of the 1975 U.S. Youth Conservation Corps program, according to Representative Bob Wilson, R-San Diego.

Wilson said he was told of the plans by Secretary of the Interior Rogers C. B. Morton and Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz.

Starting in mid-June, some 4,500 youths will be employed for eight weeks in 180 YCC camps on lands managed by the Department of Interior's Bureau of Indian Affairs, Bureau of Land Management, Bureau of Reclamation, U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and the National Park Service, Wilson said.

In addition, approximately 4,000 young people are expected to be employed in State and territorial YCC projects.

Camps Nationwide
Both State and Federal YCC projects will provide camps in each of the 50 states, the District of Columbia, American Samoa, the Virgin Islands, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Trust Territories of the Pacific.

Department of Interior officials said there would be coeducational camps, all female camps and all male camps. Camps will be both residential (live-in) and non-residential.

time experts from the entire country could be called upon for guidance and models for future systems.

The group also made their belief known that "gaping holes exist in the planning process for juvenile justice in San Diego."

It is further evidence of poor planning when neither the Human Resources Advisory Board nor the Mental Health Advisory Board offered any in-depth analysis or guidance to the County Board, Bates said.

Comprehensive study of the Environmental Impact Report had uncovered statements in the report that are sketchy, uneven and vague, he added. The report, he said, makes no mention of the economic or social impact of present planned programs. The most serious weakness found in the EIR analysis is that no alternatives to present projects are considered and there are no guidelines in the report for number of employees, type of supervision needed or setting in which rehabilitation could be accomplished.

Bates said his position is not based on bits of information against a program, but expressions and feelings of San Diegans from every level. Doubts on present programs have been raised, from organizations to single citizens.

The group suggested a six-month study of the juvenile justice system here, in which

1 of 5 Viet Vets Is Jobless, Cranston Says

U. S. Senator Alan Cranston said last week that unemployment among young Vietnam-era veterans increased by 5 percentage points last month and now has reached nearly 20 percent.

Addressing a conference on veterans problems at the San Diego Veterans Administration Hospital, Cranston said that nationwide some 541,000 Vietnam-era veterans are unemployed.

The unemployment rate of 19.7 percent for Vietnam-era veterans 20 to 24 years old compares with 11.6 percent unemployment for non-veterans in the same age bracket, Cranston said.

Cranston also pointed out that "those who need GI Bill training the most" to help them get jobs are not using federally financed programs for education and job training.

"There are 692,000 Vietnam-era veterans who are high school dropouts and who have made no use of their educational and job training benefits under the GI Bill.

Cranston urged community leaders, educators, businessmen and veterans organizations to help veterans in three ways: By employing veterans, by urging them to make use of their education benefits, and by working to erase the stigma of veterans with "bad paper," referring to Viet vets who received less-than-honorable discharges.

B. Wilson Offers Small Savers Act

As part of the concerted effort to help the economy by fighting inflation, Rep. Bob Wilson, R-San Diego, has introduced the Small Savers Act.

"It is an anti-inflationary measure designed to encourage people to save money by allowing a tax exemption for interest and dividends received on funds deposited at savings institutions," Wilson said.

Under the Wilson bill, married couples filing joint returns would be entitled to an exemption on the first $1,000 in interest earned. Single persons would receive a $500 exemption.

"The money deposited at savings and loan institutions would be lent out to the construction industry to help finance the construction of new homes," Wilson explained.

He said thousands of jobs would be created in the construction industry and related businesses.

"New homes would be available, interest rates on loans would come down and hopefully, our general economic picture would begin to brighten," Wilson said.

with workers living at home and commuting to work. Facilities will vary from tents and rough bunkhouses to large barracks-type buildings and college dormitories.

According to plans, each camp will have anywhere from 24 to 50 youths working an average of 8 weeks. The daily rate of pay for enrollees will be dependent on the type of camp attended. Deductions from paychecks will be made for meals and lodging at residential camps.

Wilson said the YCC program is designed to fill the following needs: (1) accomplish needed conservation work on public lands; (2) provide gainful employment for 15-18 year-olds, both male and females from all social, economic, ethnic and racial classifications; and (3) develop an understanding and appreciation in participating youth of the Nation's natural environment and heritage.

Requirements
The Department of Interior outlined the eligibility requirements: (1) Age — 15 through 18; (2) interest in working out-of-doors; (3) no history of serious criminal or anti-social behavior; (4) possession of work permit in States where required and (5) a Social Security number.

Wilson said that each State will receive and process applications for YCC projects. Enrollees will be selected at the State level and in most cases will be handled on a lottery system. The deadline for accepting applications will be determined by each State, therefore, youths should submit applications to the recruiting agents listed on the attached page by the first of March to ensure consideration for employment.

Application blanks may be obtained by writing to the State recruiting agent, J. Weddle, U. S. Forest Service, 630 Sanzone St., San Francisco, Ca 94111 or United States Youth Conservation Corps, P.O. Box 2975, Washington, D.C. 20013.

Interior Department officials said they usually receive more applications than there are jobs available, so unfortunately many youths who apply for the program will not be selected.

E.D.D. Has Jobs

Despite the high unemployment rate in California, thousands of job vacancies are filled every month through field offices of the state's Employment Development Department (E.D.D.), and hundreds of hard-to-fill jobs go begging.

During January, the Department found jobs for 33,220 applicants in occupations ranging across the spectrum of the work force: professional, technical, clerical, sales, trades and services.

Hundreds more jobs listed with the Department remain unfilled, month after month because they call for special skills in short supply, or for weekend work or night shift.

The E.D.D. in San Diego County has many job vacancies right now. Some of these are in hard-to-fill categories such as electronic engineer, industrial engineer, registered nurse, licensed vocational nurse, certified shipyard welder, pipefitter and electronic technician.

The Employment Development Department fills over half a million job vacancies each year, over 27,000 job openings are filled by the Department in San Diego County.

Thief Gets in Hole in Wall

Burglars apparently crawled through a small hole in the side of the corrugated metal sidewalk of Custom Wire Manufacturing Co., at 7580 North ave., Lemon Grove on February 18 and took tools and equipment valued at $450.

Calvin Richard Cook, operator said the firm was missing an oxygen tank and an acetylene tank, each weighing 35 pounds; hoses and a cutting torch and six 5-gallon cans of thinner.

Cook said several smaller thefts had occurred but the loss was too small to report. He gave sheriff's deputies the name of a suspect.

Leakey to Speak On Man's Origins

At Southwestern

Richard Leakey, noted anthropologist and Director of the National Museums of Kenya, is the next guest speaker at Southwestern College's Lecture Series. Leakey speaks on Monday March 3 at 8 p.m. in Mayan Hall Theatre.

The program consists of a film lecture on the search of early man in East Africa. It covers a series of expeditions with which Leakey has been involved over the years and provides a combination of adventures and scientific meaning for the viewer.

Leakey was educated at the Duke of York School in Nairobi, Kenya, and has participated in expeditions in Tanzania, Kenya, and Ethiopia since 1963, and has had many papers and articles published.

Leakey's presentation has been described as an illustrated commentary on recent discoveries that have advanced our knowledge of the remote past.

Tickets for the lecture go on sale at the theatre box office at 7:30 p.m. the night of the lecture. Reduced rates are offered to seniors and students with discount cards.
